Breeding Assoc. Going To Work

The Mountain View Breeding Association has reached the required number of members and cow commitment to become established as a co-operative association and service cattle in the proposed area.

It is now planned that this association will start breeding cows with frozen semen on or about October 18, 1956. Therefore the interim board has called a general membership meeting for Monday, Sept. 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the Arena hall, Olds. All members are asked to be present to pass the constitution, by-laws, etc. and elect the permanent officers for the association.

Those interested are urged to be present to attend as it will enable the association to go ahead and have a technician in the field servicing cows at an early date.

Farmers who have not yet got a membership may acquire one at this meeting.

NEW BRIDGE FOR EAST COUNTRY

Hon. Gordon Taylor, minister of highways for the province of Alberta, accompanied by J. L. Owens, M.L.A., and Fred Graham, district engineer, met with a number of ratepayers and members of the council of the Municipal District of Mountain View on Wednesday, Sept. 6.

The meeting was called to decide on a bridge project across Lone Pine Creek, which is situated some 18 miles east of Didsbury.

Everything seemed to be in accord and approval was given by the government officials and backed up by approval of council members. Seems like the new bridge is on its way.

Local Couple Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

The Brower homestead in the Zella district was the recent scene of a family reunion, when all the sons and daughters, and most of the grandchildren, met to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin S. Brower.

The house was opened to visitors. Blossom Abraham, with the help of the other daughters and daughters-in-law, served tea and refreshments to the afternoon and evening to many friends who called to congratulate the couple. Many cards and gifts were received. A bouquet of yellow roses, a gift from Zella district friends, and a diamond from other friends, graced the living room table, which was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the youngest daughter, Betty Spencer.

The following day the family gathered in Zella schoolhouse for a turkey dinner, which was catered to by the Women's Institute. Mrs. Brower read a psalm and Mr. Brower offered a prayer, which has been their custom throughout the years.

Following dinner Mr. Brower gave a reminiscence speech in which he recalled some of his experiences of the pioneer days. From Iowa in 1902, Mr. Brower, with his brothers, started for Canada by covered wagon. Going as far as Dakota, they decided to return, making the journey with their parents, by train, in 1902.

All took up homesteads in the Zella district, where Mr. Brower and his father built the Zella school house in 1904. Later Mr. Brower returned to Iowa, where in 1906 he married.

Miss Belle Young, her and his pioneer bride made their home in the first frame house in the Zella district, where they raised five sons and five daughters. This same house was the setting for this celebration, and also two other such occasions, which were the golden and diamond wedding anniversaries of Mr. Brower's parents.

The eldest son, Osborn Brock, proposed a toast to the honored couple and presented them with gold wrist watches, tokens of love from their family. A short program of readings and songs added to the occasion followed, in which each of their sons and daughters took part.

For many of the grandchildren it was a time of meeting cousins for the first time. The sons and daughters who came from a distance enjoyed seeing friends of years gone by.

By courtesy of the Evangelical church the entire group were able to spend a few days together on the camp grounds at Elkton. The group being so large, the family decided to hold its own Sunday school and morning worship service in the camp chapel.

Barry Brower, with the help of some of the grandchildren, who recited and sang, led the Sunday school meditation. One of the grandchildren, Deane Geiger, shared some of her experiences as a missionary among the Cree Indian children of Northern Saskatchewan, after which Rev. Warren Brower delivered the sermon.

The following days were a happy time of reminiscing and visiting for all.

WALTHER LEAGUE BIDS FAREWELL TO TWO MEMBERS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The September 4 meeting of the Walther League began with a devotion led by Rev. Fox, after which the pastor outlined the book of Proverbs, which the leaguers will study at their next meeting.

During the business session it was decided to have a box social in the near future. Information was given regarding the Walther League officers' conference in Canmore on Sept. 30 and the Fall Rally which will be held in Claresholm on Oct. 8.

Plans are developing for the Alberta-British Columbia Walther League convention, which will be held here early in 1957.

On Friday, Sept. 7, leaguers, and friends gathered in the church basement to bid farewell to two members, Lilly Reinhardt is leaving to work in Calgary and Katharine Folkman will be attending the Lutheran Concordia College in Edmonton.

Games, contests and a tasty lunch were all part of the program.

Cars Impounded October 1st Unless You Have Pink Card

Providing for the impounding of motor cars involved in accidents unless financial responsibility cards, pink in color, are produced at the time, new legislation under The Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act will take effect in Alberta, Oct. 1.

During recent weeks, thousands of the financial responsibility cards have been issued by insurance companies to Alberta motorists, carrying adequate insurance on their cars.

After Oct. 1 any motorist involved in an accident must show proof of financial responsibility or have his car impounded.

The act says that if a motor car is involved in an accident whereby injury or death is caused to any person or property damage of $100 or more is occasioned, the vehicle will be impounded unless a financial responsibility card is produced.

In the case of a non-resident of a recognized province or state, a card similar to the Alberta financial responsibility card must be produced.

The section which deals with impounding says "Where bodily injury to or the death of any person or damage in any amount apparently exceeding $100 to property results from an accident in which a motor vehicle is involved in any manner directly or indirectly, any peace officer present at the scene of the accident or who arrives thereafter while any or all of the vehicles so involved in the accident are still at the scene thereof, shall, subject to certain provisions, impound each motor vehicle so involved and require it to be taken to a repair shop."

If repairs are necessary and immediately desired by the owner, to such repair shop or garage as the owner may select, for the purpose of having repaired, or

Eastern Couple Married Here

ROWLAND - MORGAN
A quiet wedding was solemnized at Didsbury, Alberta, on Saturday September 8, at 4 p.m., when Marguerite "Peg", daughter of Mr. W. H. T. Morgan of Didsbury, was united in marriage with Mr. John F. Rowland, of Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rowland of Elmira, Ont.

Rev. T. J. Stainton performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding, a cocktail length gown of ice blue brocade, styled on princess lines, with three-quarter length sleeves and wide V-neckline. Her accessories were pawn ivory in color and she carried a nosegay bouquet of pink roses, pink and white snapdragons and stephanotis and heirloom lace handkerchief. She wore as her jewellery a single strand of pearls with pin and earrings to match, a gift of the groom.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Gwyneth Thompson of Red Deer, Alta., wore a cocktail length dress of pink brocade, made with long torso, three-quarter length sleeves and square neckline. Her accessories were of pawn ivory and she carried a nosegay bouquet of yellow roses, yellow snapdragons and stephanotis. Her jewellery was a single strand of pearls, with matching earrings.

Mr. Trev Morgan, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Mullen. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centred by a three-tiered wedding cake, which was flanked with white tapers and silver baskets of flowers.

The toast to the bride was given by the groomsman and responded to by the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland left for a motor trip to Edmonton, Jasper and Banff, the bride travelling in a navy blue shantung jacket dress, with old rose accents and corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Rowland is a graduate of the University of Alberta and Mr. Rowland a graduate engineer of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont.

They will reside in Ottawa, where the groom is a research engineer for the department of mines and technical surveys.

Students . . . Are You Listening?

After a week of buying new and used books, rushing to drug stores for necessary equipment, and trying to work option courses into the timetable, the high school student should be fairly well settled and ready to dig in. Junior and senior high school courses are not cinches. They are long and detailed and difficult to cram.

The wise high school student will set for himself a schedule, which allows time for assignments, reading and solid studying. Adjustments will have to be made in the plan during the year, of course, for some courses demand more concentrated study in certain sections, but gener-

No Need For Continuous Advertising

Preachers . . .

Should preach only one sermon or so a year. People are against sin anyway, so why harp on it.

Traffic Lights . . .

Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.

Teachers . . .

Do not need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

Highway Police . . .

Stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and should obey.

Out of Towners . . .

That advertisements in the local paper and mail order firms that send out catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold in the stores in town and they'll all shop at home.

But if you are one of the foolish kind — like the Notre Dame cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is still there — and believe in continuous, profitable advertising then you will want to advertise in

Divine Mind's triumph over the forces of materialism will be set forth at Christian Science Services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter."

Accounts of divine power and healing — including Joshua's victory at Jericho and Christ Jesus' walking on the sea — will be among passages read from the Holy Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read (139:4): "From beginning to end, the Scriptures are full of accounts of the triumph of Spirit, Mind, over matter. Moses proved the power of Mind by what men called miracles; so did Joshua, Elijah, and Elisha."
The Golden Text will include the following (Psalms 81:10): "I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt."

SLIGHT OMISSION

Admiral Cunningham of the British Navy, was on board his flagship when a cruiser made a messy job of tying up to her birth. The captain of the cruiser knew that a message would be forthcoming from the Admiral and anticipated the worst. He was therefore surprised when a message arrived from the commander-in-chief, consisting of one word: "Good."

About a quarter of an hour later the second installment of the message was delivered. It read: "To the previous message please add the word 'God'."

Already he's learned a lot about modern farm management, and how a chartered bank can play its part in making farm living more comfortable, more profitable. He has found, for example, how useful the bank can be as a place to build up savings, to obtain credit, to seek financial advice and market information. He knows that the bank manager's door is open to everyone.

When you see a good-looking, well-run farm, chances are the farmer uses the services the chartered banks have built up for all Canadians.

This Time Around . . . we're on the band wagon for a bit of a celebration to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Town of Didsbury. The big day comes up later in the month and we feel organizations within the area should get together and put on a show. After all, it only comes a couple of times in a century.

This Time Around . . . we'll do some more beefing about traffic control in our fair town. One day last week, the time was mid-morning, we saw one driver (don't know who, darn it!) make a U-turn at the bank corner at a speed of approximately 30 miles an hour. The car very nearly turned over and it's just fortunate no other vehicles were in its path. Vigilantes needed?

This Time Around . . . we're on the side of the TV viewers who keep saying: "We saw this one before." Seems to us that every second program these days, we should say nights, is a repeat. Pretty tiresome pastime when you know what comes next. Power tubes come too high to waste them on reproductions.

This Time Around . . . we're going to make the suggestion that the town council take a look at the bike-parking problem and do something about it. (They'll probably raise my taxes for this). The congestion of two-wheelers around the drug store and post office during busy hours could be handled quite easily by placing a bike rack on the side street near the busy spots. Better than having them leaning and laying on the main stem.

This Time Around . . . we're wondering what gives with the soft drink trade. Some spots in town have jacked up the price and when you try to return the 'dead soldiers' they say "sorry, we don't take empties." What are customers supposed to do, build a glass house with them?

This Time Around . . . we want to tell you about the old country doctor who parked his Model T on the street. When he came back a number of youths were standing around laughing at the old bus. The doctor climbed into the seat and said mildly: "The car's paid for boys." He looked deliberately from one boy to another and said: "You're not — and you're not."

Guest Editorial

One of the reasons prairie grain farming has become so heavily mechanized and therefore so heavily capitalized is the difficulty of getting adequate and satisfactory farm labor. But still, even with self-propelled combines and the like, harvest requires extra help. That help just isn't available. Alberta's farm labor director says the shortage of this fall may be the worst ever.

Manitoba is making efforts to get army help for its harvest. Not only are military personnel being urged to take their annual leaves in the harvest fields, but extra time off is being considered. That could be a partial help in Alberta too.

At a time when grain prices are doing no more than holding their own it may be incongruous to suggest that production costs be increased, but we submit that farm wages are not high enough — not for good help, that is. Of course any wage is too high for some of the shiftless types, especially what is so often sent out from the employment bureau.

A large part of the suitable farm labor force is made up of European immigrants. But for these, prairie agriculture would be in a bad state. And some of these immigrants have spoiled the farmers, working for lower wages than they should.

Unless a farmer is willing to provide year-round work at a wage in keeping with the times, he can't expect to get good help. Nobody with farming experience is going to give up a city job for a couple of months each fall to help take off the crop. It doesn't pay.

Farm labor ought to be more permanent and specialized, even professionalized. Otherwise farmers must be prepared to pay much better wages for the short periods they need help. There's a third alternative — to create a national labor force, such as the army, for such annual tasks. But that's a last resort.

SOW THISTLE: From my travels around the country I am convinced that sow thistle in some localities is on the increase. Many fields, relatively free previously, are showing up this year with heavy infestations. Abundant rains and lack of adequate cultivation in the summer/fallow year have provided favorable conditions for the spread of this weed.

Farmers should take careful note of their fields now and be prepared to double their control measures; otherwise the thistles will continue to increase and decreased yields will be evident. Land presently under summer/fallow should not be neglected in the rush to take off the harvest. Crop land that is infested should be cultivated after the crop is removed.

Fall cultivation, whether on land that was cropped or on land under summer/fallow, is very desirable to control sow thistle, Canada thistle, quack grass, toad flax and other persistent perennials. Several good thorough strikes yet this fall will pay big dividends next year as far as weed control is concerned.

I have always felt that the last deep cultivation just before freeze-up is perhaps the most important one. Don't neglect it.

PLASTIC-COVERED MEAT

A new idea for selling meat to consumer is being promoted in the United States. It involves dipping-in plastic meats which are aimed at boosting self-service meat business.

The plastic coverings come in two kinds: one where the meat is cooked by the housewife right in the plastic; the second type where the plastic is pulled off just before cooking.

The first system makes use of a polyester film that remains covering the meat throughout cooking. One of the ideas behind this is by cooking meat this way, the housewife has no dirty pans to clean.

In the second system a colorless liquid coating of plastic is poured over the meat.

Time is running short and the gas is on its way, so let us be ready when the Gas. Co. gets here.

Also these getting their work done now will pay less than those that wait.

There is a steel industry strike on and that means the cost of pipe and fittings and all things made from steel will of course go up.

REV. T. J. STANTON, M.A.

"IF I HAD A MILLION . . ."
Two travellers were comparing notes on the weather conditions they had met when on their journey.

One said "London is the foggiest place on the face of the whole earth."
"No," said the other. "I have seen a foggiest place than old London."

"Where? tell me where?" asked the first.

"It was so foggy I couldn't find out," said the other.

That is just as good an answer as most of us could give, as to what we might do with a million, or what a million might do with us.

We generally think of a million in terms of a glorious opportunity to do something, and to be somebody out of the ordinary. What we fail to see is, that, right here and now, there are opportunities waiting at our doors, which hold values far beyond the values millions can supply.

These neglected opportunities are laden with personal distinctions, satisfaction, and peace.

Many of us will never have a million. We will never have that to worry about. But what about the dollar we have? What we do with the dollar we have we do with a million if we had it. What we do with an hour, we do with our days.
What we do with the opportunities we now have, whatever size they may be, we will most likely do with every other opportunity that will come our way throughout life. So long as we neglect the present opportunities for advance, just so long will we remain in the realm of small thoughts, petty attitudes and poor accomplishments.

Low ideals, small purposes, and weak faith will never produce, or support a people of high character.
A million helps little. The mountain tops of the Rockies do not produce food and clothing. Neither do millions produce peace and satisfaction.

Some children played in the lane
behind a row of poorly kept houses.
An older boy found a box, some blocks, some pieces of boards and made of them a cart. He placed the two smallest of the group in his cart, and said with delight, "I will give you a big long ride. I made it for that purpose." Of course he could have pointed and said "I wish I had some real good material and I would make a cart," or he might have said "Nobody can make a cart out of this junk." He used what he had to good advantage and whenever he gets better and larger opportunities he will use them to good advantage also. Is that not much better than just idly wishing for a million.

In an old and familiar look we read "To him that hath shall be given." But does it not imply use?
He who did not use lost what he had.
Character is like knowledge. A person must give it, in order to keep it.
Self-denial is self development. To have is to use. To use is to enjoy and increase.

A boy who lived in the mountains
thought their tops were somewhere in the heavens. One day he asked his mother if anyone could climb the nearby mountain. "Yes," said the mother. "All one would need is to keep right on climbing. You can get almost anywhere by taking steps enough." The boy always wanted to attend school, but never lived near one so he could do so. At the age of twenty-one remembering his mother's words, "you can get almost

PHONEY money
from Formosa

Chinese Nationalists have a new twist in their psychological warfare. They are dropping from the air "silver" dollars that turn out to be aluminum discs urging the mainland Chinese to join the Formosa forces.

While this money was phoney, real aluminum coins are widely used — in France and Italy, for instance. A fraction the weight of other metals, and perennially bright and shiny, aluminum pays off as small change. It also pays off for Canada, as an industry that converts raw materials and waterpower into purchasing power in the world markets.
ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD. (ALCAN)

Now It Couldn't
Matter Less . . .

Summer vacations are over. Amateur and professional champions have gained their titles on golf links throughout the world. Swimmers of the English Channel, Lake Ontario and the Juan de Fuca Strait, successful or not, are wiping the grease from their bodies and looking forward to next year's tests of their endurance. New Miss Americas, Miss Canadas and Miss Toonervilles have had their triumphs.

The unsuccessful golfers and swimmers need not evoke overmuch sympathy, as one who misses the first prize this year may win it next.
Winners of second and third prizes in competitions for beauty crowns have faint hopes of advancing to the throne when next year's series of competitions rolls around. In the eyes of their families and friends they will be just as beautiful as ever but they will be a year older. The tape-line passed around strategic parts of their figures may still reveal the same measurements, but something will be missing in the general picture some touch of grace that will be supplied by a younger competitor.

Beauty contests no doubt serve some useful purpose, though it may not be readily discoverable. The contestants must derive some pleasure from the public display of their charms and in addition they have the chance of winning substantial awards in cash or merchandise. Other inducements are possible, but improbable: more contracts, jobs as models for clothes and magazine covers, and the dream of romance with a young and handsome millionaire.

A desire for fame may be another incentive, but the fame so as even-escent as beauty itself. Who remembers the name of last year's Miss Toonerville, Miss Canada or Miss Universe? In Toonerville the lady's fame may endure longer than that of competitors in larger fields, for probably Miss Toonerville is the prestigious girl in town. Miss Metropolitan Area is merely the girl who, in the opinion of a few judges, is the prestigious of the girls who like to enter beauty contests.

ODD, BUT TRUE

In Kansas, U.S.A., there is a law stating that when two trains approach each other at a crossing,
"they shall both come to a full stop,
and neither shall start up again until the other has gone."

anywhere by taking steps enough."
He spent his last few pennies for a spelling book and a beginners arithmetic. Here he began to use what he had, in his upward climb. It took many steps. There were some slips backward. No climb is always straight forward. He kept on and about the beginning of the century he was a leading instructor in one of America's foremost universities.

Why wish for a million? You have more than many millions now. We each have. Are we each using what we have? Right use is always the avenue that leads to more. This is the only road that leads to true greatness, or to a life that is wholesome and worthwhile.

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Youth For Christ Rally was a real success. Some 40 young people from out of town registered and many others came in through the day to enjoy the instruction and help that Rev. Jack Daniel of Wheaton, Ill., brought to them. Those who did not hear this youth worker missed a great deal. To have men who go about to build up the Christian character of the youth of today is surely a matter of deep appreciation to those who desire to see juvenile delinquency decrease and citizenship of the right kind advance. Ross Allen, who is the provincial director, did a fine job in directing this new type of program. Mr. Bennett, who led the singing, had a choir that was more than competent. Mr. Edward Oke is the local director now.

Miss Shirley Cochrane of Kitchener, Ont., passed through town last weekend. Shirley is a student at our other Bible college, Emmanuel, in Ontario. She visited Miss Gladys Eby on Sunday and they recalled many interesting events of the days when Miss Eby was dean in that college. She is returning to the college to graduate this year.

The ladies are still working at the college. The dress units are being packed with frozen vegetables and fruits and the winter promises good meals to the student body.

President Taylor will be attending an educational council of the United Missionary church in Indiana next week. He and Rev. Harley Traub will be leaving this weekend. The trip will also include other church school councils and a basis of educational standards for all such schools will be discussed and regulations for the future formulated.

The time will soon be here when gardens will be robbed of their produce and food stored away in cellars. Should you have a surplus we will be happy to receive such. Our splendid root cellar can take quite a lot of produce from the gardens and your contribution will mean much toward keeping down the overhead cost of living. We give the students very reasonable rates so they can come, and we are not an institution that makes profits, but we depend on the good will of friends at all times.

Mr. Earl Reimer will be leaving shortly for Cascade College, Portland, to continue his studies in the theological field. On Wednesday evening the young people from Miss Eby's class met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Reimer to express their appreciation of this long-time member and wish him the best of everything as he pursues his life's work. Miss Alta Mae Oke, who will attend college 50 miles from here this year, was also present and had good wishes extended to her. Earl graduated from M.V.B.C. last year and with one exception had the highest G.P.A. in the college. Do it again Earl, in Cascade!

EAST NOTES

Mrs. Sandy Brander was a Calgary visitor on Wednesday with her mother Mrs. Spasen and with Sandra at the Junior Red Cross Hospital.

Midway News

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The school flower beds look quite cheery with plants and blossoms, despite the snappy efforts of Jack Frost. The gravel in the yard is a big improvement over last year. There is an enrollment this year of 90 pupils, 11 of whom are beginners. Thirteen pupils (high school) are being bussed to Carstairs and Didsbury.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John McNaughton on the birth of their son John, the sixth John in the line in the McNaughton family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hoskin of Oshawa, Ont., the former a brother of Fred Hoskin, have been visiting relatives in the area for the past three weeks. Following this Mr. and Mrs. F. Hoskin accompanied them to Balfour, B.C., where they will visit with other relatives. Before leaving a family dinner was held in Calgary. The three brothers and their wives who are holding this get-together are all over the 80-year mark and still very active. A fair mark in any family.

DIDSBURY PIONEERINTERESTING NEWS

SPADY - JANZEN

The Evangelical church, Didsbury, was the scene of a lovely wedding on August 8th when Velma Jeanette Janzen and Raymond Spady were united in marriage. Rev. Stickle performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Janzen, Didsbury, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spady of Carstairs.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to "Tobengrins Wedding March." Her floor length gown was of lace and net over satin styled with long torso lily point sleeves. Appliqued lace and iridescent sequins trimmed the full skirt. Her shoulder length veil fell from a cap style head piece, also encrusted with iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and white stephanotis. Her jewelry was a black diamond necklace.

Four attendants preceded the bride down the aisle dressed in identical ballerina length dresses of pale blue nylon sheer over taffeta. All wore matching blue hats and gloves and carried small arrangements of aspidochloa.

Mrs. Joe Teynor, sister of the bride was matron of honor and the other attendants were Mrs. Stan Janzen, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Alma Spady, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Milton Vosler.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Reubin Spady and Mr. Delton Yost of Trochu, cousin of the groom.

Master Blair Janzen sang "A Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Broadhurst at the organ who supplied the bridal music.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Janzen chose a blue and white figured afternoon dress with matching blue hat and white accessories. All wore matching blue hats and gloves. While the grooms mother also chose blue and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor with 86 guests present. The tables were tastefully decorated in shades of blue and pink.

The brides table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and blue candles.

Out-of-town guests were from Washington, Edmonton, Alliance, Trochu, Calgary, Rosemary and Innisfail.

Under a shower of confetti the happy couple left on a honeymoon to points in the U.S. On their return they will make their home in Calgary.

MELVIN NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Many farmers in the district are harvesting their first unhalled crop in some years. Owing to the shortage of labor, students and housewives are lending a hand. Of course, no one minds the extra work when there is promise of some fruits for their labors.

School is in full swing and we hear the yellow buses are all well loaded. Melvin bus reports a good number of beginners this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cunningham of Winnipeg spent a week in the district renewing old acquaintances. They left last week and intend to spend a few days in Banff before returning home.

DIDSBURY SCHOOL HOST TO 534 STUDENTS

There were 53 beginners at Didsbury school when the first bell rang last week and a total registration of 534 pupils who will haunt the halls of learning here this term.

There are 300 in grades 1 to 6, 156 in grades 7, 8 and 9, and the high school section counts up to 98. It is expected more students will arrive as the harvest season ends.

RUGBY WOMEN'S GROUP HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

Rugby W.I. held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. Glen Ray, with 11 members and one visitor present. A donation of $5 was made to Dr. Hittchmanova, of the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada.

Arrangements were made to show films at Rugby hall on Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. Pie and ice cream will be sold. Coffee goes for free!

Mrs. Bert Smith had the members sing several song selections as the "bit of fun."

Mrs. Percy Hosegood chose as her "citizenship" topic, an article on welfare appeals, united or separate.

She also read the biography of Dr. Charles Bruce Sissons. This was most interesting and added a personal touch. As Dr. Sissons is an uncle of Mrs. Harvey Hosegood and was a visitor at her home this summer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Hogg.
